TEACHERS

The most common thing parents say they love about Seton: the caring, committed teachers. The teachers come in every day devoted to helping each child learn in their individual way. They enjoy teaching at a Catholic school, and they appreciate the type of students who attend—hardworking, creative and respectful. Genuinely interested in their students—year after year—Seton teachers do whatever it takes to help each child succeed. An experienced faculty, they keep themselves updated on the latest teaching methods, trends and best practices. The support staff and the administration sustain the teachers’ work with effective policies and friendly service. Seton nurtures a teaching community of mutual goodwill and respect, benefitting the students who learn from them.

FAITH

At Seton Catholic School, students learn about the world through a lens of charity and faith. Living and learning in the light of faith, each student becomes a whole person—body and soul. Teachers infuse Catholic morals and values throughout the day, not just in Religion classes. High value is placed on respect, discipline and good behavior. The Catholic culture results in students who care about each other and their world.

FAMILY

Seton Catholic School is a family. That includes not only the faculty, staff and students—but also their parents, siblings and grandparents. Teachers put a high priority on parent participation, and parents find the teachers open and easy to communicate with. Many events throughout the school year encourage family involvement. Included in their child’s education and spiritual development, parents become part of the Seton community and rave about their students’ place in it.

“I am grateful for the quality education I received at Seton.”
